The readers of THE CAUCASIAN will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Eupesey.
This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and out the demon dyspepsia and install instead Eupesey. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c and $1.00 per bottle by R. H. Holliday, Druggist.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.
It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. She had a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better; fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful discovery free at R. H. Holliday's Drug Store.

THE EDITOR'S CHAIR.

HOW THINGS LOOK FROM OUR STAND POINT.

The Opinion of The Editor and the Opinion of others which we Can Endorse on the Various Topics of the Day.

THE INCOME TAX.

One of the best and most needed arrangements to restore something of prosperity and lift at least a part of the burdens of taxation from the shoulders of the oppressed people is to tax the incomes of the rich and prosperous. England taxes the wealth of the country. The United States tax the poverty of the land, and the men of colossal incomes go comparatively scot-free. Shall this go on? Who says so? No true friend of the toilers and farmers will say so. We are satisfied that incomes over $2,000 or $3,000 should be taxed. It is but fair that wealth should shoulder its proper share of burden. A thoughtful Presbyterian clergyman favoring an income tax, writes us of a recent date:

"The intent of the income tax bill is, and its outcome if passed would be, to furnish the Government with the tax to run, if economically administered, not so much as now from the poor farmer and others but from the richer classes who are most able to pay it. No bill yet proposed is so little utopian and offers so great advantages to the farmers."

North Carolina taxes now all incomes over $1,000. It has been doing this for a long time. It is too low. It ought to be made $2,000, and less than that is taxing a man's living. Some men lie and dodge, but honest men pay the tax as in duty bound.—Wil. Messenger.

Ingalls in a recent speech said:—"The Decalogue and the golden rule have no place in a political campaign. This modern cant about corruption of politics is fatiguing in the extreme. It proceeds from the tea and mustard and the syllabub dilettanteism."

Rev. Thomas Dixon replying puts him to shame, (if such a thing is possible) as follows:—"All I have to say in reply to this is that the man who does not believe in purity is impure. The man who does not believe in honesty is dishonest. The man who does not believe in truth is a liar. This nation was founded on the Decalogue and the Ten Commandments. The men who landed at Plymouth Rock landed on their knees. The foundations of this Republic were cut from the quarry of God's eternal granite. Its foundation stones were laid in cement made with the tears and blood of Christian men and women. The man who has outgrown the Decalogue and the Golden Rule has outgrown his usefulness in this nation."

The reason ascribed by the opponents of a Railroad Commission, when that important subject was before the last Legislature, was that a commission would be unable to accomplish any good for the people. The work done by the Aycock investigating committee in forcing two railroad corporations to pay taxes, is the strongest possible evidence that a Railroad Commission could do good and one is sadly needed in this State.—Wilson Advance.

It was said that R. B. Hayes was the smallest man that ever sat in the Presidential chair, but 'tis now agreed that his vest would make little Benny Harrison a suit of clothes and enough left for a winter overcoat.

It is difficult for us to realize the extent and terrible results of the Mississippi flood. Just think of it—one-third of the State of Louisiana was under water.

DR. MANGUM DEAD.

On last Monday the Rev. Dr. A. W. Mangum, of Chapel Hill, who for some time has been in ill health, died. He was one of the greatest preachers of the North Carolina Conference, and since 1875 he has occupied the chair of Moral Philosophy and English Literature at the State University. For four years we sat at his feet for instruction and know him to be one of the highest types of christian manhood.

A CORRECTION.

A friend of ours, who is a doctor kindly sends us the following confidential note, not intended for publication, but under the circumstances we have decided to publish it, withholding his name.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.
DEAR FRIEND: I think your account of the assassination of Mr. Butler of your town says: "The missile passed through the right descending colon (one of the large intestines)." When you remember that there is really only one intestine, and that the large portion (the colon) passes up on the right side and down on the left, don't you think you are liable to be criticised?

Hoping you will receive this in the same spirit in which it is offered, I am a truly,
Your Friend,

We do not profess to be "up" on anatomy, but we do know enough physiology not to have made the above mistake. We intended to say the ascending colon, meaning that part of the colon that ascends on the right side. We noticed the mistake too late, besides several doctors of this place called our attention to the error immediately after the paper came out, but we did not think it necessary to make a correction in the next issue. There is probably not a newspaper published in the world that does not contain some errors in each issue, and as for ourselves we never attempt to make corrections, unless some one is wronged or misrepresented other than ourself, and not then unless the error is a material one. If newspapers were to try to do otherwise each issue would have an errata making corrections for errors in the preceding issue.

For instance, in our issue of May 1st we suppose there were at least fifty typographical errors, besides other errors such as the definition of homicide, which was the correct definition of justifiable homicide, which Judge Graves meant in his charge to the jury. Also we reported Bishop Watson as preaching on "communion" when it was "conversion," etc. If we had known nothing of law, we would have known that homicide was a generic term (derived from the latin homo, a man, and cado, to kill), meaning simply man-killing. If our readers attribute all the errors that appear in our paper to ignorance, we will have to bear their want of charity and the injustice they do us, for in the rush of newspaper work, where one man has everything to do, it is impossible to prevent errors appearing in type, though the great number of errors in the issue to which we refer were due to the fact that we were absent when the paper went to press and did not read the proof sheets.

THE TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.
The Southern Educational Exposition, to be held at Morehead City, N. C., in connection with the Teachers' Assembly, this summer, promises to be a great success. Nearly all the available space in the Assembly building has been engaged for exhibits by prominent manufacturers, publishers and schools. The art exhibits from some of the seminaries and colleges of the State will be unusually interesting.

NOMINATED TO SUCCEED RANDALL.
Hon. Richard Vaux has been nominated for Congress by the Third District Democratic Convention of Pennsylvania to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel J. Randall. Vaux was a compromise candidate.

A woman's domestic life in a small town even under the best conditions and the most favorable circumstances, is narrow and contracted, meagre of novelty and unfruitful of amusement—and it is difficult to fully understand how welcome to them an occasional diversion from an otherwise monotonous routine.—Fayetteville Observer.

WOMAN'S SPHERE.

DRESS.

It is every woman's duty, first to herself, second to her family, and third to society to appear neat, attractive and to an advantage in every way possible.

PARIS FASHIONS.

The edict has gone forth irrevocably against toupures, bustles and steels. Gowns, this summer, are to shine by their extreme perfection of fit and elegance of cut—nothing else.

Frenchwomen attach great importance to grace, and often sacrifice convenience and comfort to the hope of looking elegant and stoupe. This is the real reason why an ugly and useless mode is creeping in again, that of having the skirt long enough to touch the ground.

It is to be feared that soon the unpleasant spectacle of every lady holding up her dress with one hand, while she endeavors to clutch her various belongings in the other, will be a familiar sight on the afternoon stroll.

The leading couturiers are introducing a great deal of real lace trimming in their best dresses. Not the heavy, rich old point that is only suitable for middle-aged matrons, but the gossamer, malines, Brussels point, Chantilly and point d'esprit.

Above all it is necessary for each lady to study her figure, and although bustles are not in fashion, the draperies on straight, plain skirts that are intended for short, stout women are gathered with so much art that the effect of a slight bustle is produced.

Sleeves have acquired a sudden importance just now; a great deal of rich trimming is lavished on them, and the old leg-of-mutton has come back again forming an immense loose puff on the shoulder and gradually vanishing to a point on the hand. But every kind of variation is displayed on the gigo theme. The only remark to be made against it is that a very plain collante gown with these bouffant sleeves gives a curious, t-p-heavy appearance to the female form divine.

Clear, bright colors are "en vogue" this Spring. Clear white, excepting for lawn tennis, is voted rather fade.

There is a decided change in the shoe and slipper department. The Louis Quize arched instep and high, pointed heel no longer reign supreme. Its place has been taken by the elegant light Greek sandal, a charming genre, certain to become popular with those blessed with small, pretty feet. Low-heeled and rounded, not pointed, or square-toed, they in every case leave the ankle exposed a la Turque, being fastened on to the foot by an elastic which should, of course be of the same shade as the stocking. These sandals give an extraordinary grace and lightness of appearance and, if made to order, are in no danger of falling off.

Garters—hint it not in Gath—have given way to dainty silk-elastic suspenders.

The Spring fashion has decreed that the elderly ladies shall wear hats, and young girls bonnets. After all, when one comes to think of it, a steady, comfortable looking hat fastened under the chin with strings, really suits an old or passée face better than a small fly-away bonnet, and lends a grace and dignity to a dowager's appearance.

Gold and silver thread are much used in bonnet trimming, and every kind of tiny field flower in preference to the more gaudy and larger garden blossoms. Daisies, forget-me-nots, speedwell and wild clover have replaced poppies, roses, lillies, etc., though the latter are still used to cover picture hats. Leghorns and light Italian straws are coming in and form a lovely background to a fresh piquante face. Twisted into every fantastic shape, lined with a delicate Pompadour silk chiffon, they require little or no trimming, and always look suitable morning, afternoon or evening, or their wearers.

The newest and most fashionable way of doing the hair is still a la Greque. Mary Anderson as Galatea and most classical heads may be taken as models. Small colored ribbons wound in and out of the hair are much worn by young girls. The fringe and bang have become completely things of the past.

A woman's domestic life in a small town even under the best conditions and the most favorable circumstances, is narrow and contracted, meagre of novelty and unfruitful of amusement—and it is difficult to fully understand how welcome to them an occasional diversion from an otherwise monotonous routine.—Fayetteville Observer.

NORTH CAROLINIANS IN GO-THAM.

Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., of New York writing to the State Chronicle says:

There are thousands of Southern people in New York city. There is no city in the north in which there are so many Southerners. There are perhaps nearly three hundred thousand Southern people in New York city. I can only mention in this letter three or four names, reserving others for a future letter.

He then goes on for two columns relating the great success of Dr. Deems, Walter H. Page, Dr. J. H. Parker, J. W. Osborn, Dr. W. B. Pritchard and other North Carolinians in Gotham. Further on he says:

It seems somehow necessary for a man to leave home, in order to become the highest of which he is capable. Henry M. Stanley, the man whose name is now on the lips of the world, kings, princes, and common people, alike doing him honor, when he was in America some years ago, was sometimes greeted with an audience as small as seven.

Dr. Deems reflects great honor upon his native state and church. He is a broad gauged man, built on a broad pattern, thinks big thoughts and lives them in his life. What a pity it is that that is no career for such a man, or there has not been, as yet, at least, in North Carolina. One reason, of course, is that North Carolina is a rural state, has no cities, while the field of modern genius must inevitably be in the city. It is useless, for this reason, for us to grieve over the departure of such men. The development of the modern city is the highest work of the civilization of the age, destined to mighty influence in the future that it has ever had in the past. Such men will inevitably find their home in these centers.

Concluding he says:—"I am besieged almost every day in the year by somebody who is stranded in this big city. It is simply amazing, the number of folks that emigrate here from the four quarters of this big country. There is no school that will teach a man wisdom quicker than to tramp around these streets for about two months, trying to find work, going to two dozen places every day and meeting with the same success, which is simply utter failure. More at another time.

HISTORIES CONDEMNED.
Herald the glad tidings to the four corners of the civilized world! Proclaim it from the house-tops! that at a meeting of the Board of Education of Cumberland county, in this city Monday, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"Ordered that the Superintendent of Public Instruction be instructed to forbid the use of Mrs. C. P. Spencer's 'First Steps in North Carolina History,' and Goodrich's 'Histories of the United States.'"

To use a common expression, the resolution is a "clinch," and puts an end, for all time to come, to the ill-fated and particularly written "First Steps in North Carolina History," and another trashy publication of about equal merit. Such publications should be as speedily expunged from our public schools as possible, and our children taught to scorn them and their authors with contempt. For the suppression of such, the Observer has the proud satisfaction of knowing that it contributed a proportionate share, and truly hopes that every county, from Cherokee to Currituck, will adopt the above resolution on the first Monday in June.—Fayetteville Observer.

WHO GETS THE MOST?

This is how some one figures it out: From a bushel of corn a distiller gets four gallons of whiskey, which retails at $16. The government gets $3.60, the farmer who raised the corn gets 40 cents, the railroad gets $1, the manufacturer gets $4, the retailer $7, and the consumer gets drunk.

Our Farmers' Column.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO THOSE WHO TILL THE SOIL.

"There is no material progress that is well based and permanent without agricultural progress."

FOR CLEVELAND.

It is time for the Farmer to be up and doing. (Special Correspondence.)

The politician republicans in Congress are as aggressive and corrupt as was the North Carolina legislature from '68 to '70, and if they continue in the same course assumed by revolutionist Reed, in ten years the last vestige of a republican form of government will have assumed a form worse than an oligarchy, and all will be chaos and confusion. Reed has made a despicable record for himself and his conditors that should forever be a political decapitation for all such tricksters. Such diabolical doings are enough to make Washington turn in his grave and groan for the downfall of the republic loud enough to be heard throughout the Union. It is the same old black radical 'nigger' party which is so prone to do evil to the American democratic conservative people. Down with such a detestable party that has no ties and no aims but to rule and ruin! There is no relief but to elect a statesman like Cleveland to fill the presidential office, and send men to represent the sovereign people who have their interests at heart, at least the backbone portion of them. Then it is high time for North Carolinians to begin to look about them and select men for the State legislature who will legislate in interest to the farmer as well as other professions. The Jeffersonian democratic style is to begin early and work hard and late, and never desert the old ship of state after she is irretrievably lost. None but a coward will flinch in doing his duty, and that duty is to stick to the true men of the country. The Alliance want true men, dyed deep in the wood, to represent farmers. Why not speak out now "loud and long" and work till the polls are closed next November? Awake farmers and Alliance men to your duty and be no longer duped by the oily tongue politicians who care for nothing but their own selfish aims which are locked up in their pocket books. "Act, act in the living present" and vote for no man for a high position unless he is the farmer's friend. And let's have our own national council, farmers, and vote for no man unless we are sure that he will do something for our relief, many have proved to be little less than traitors. Trust no man unless he pledges to legislate for the agricultural interests of the entire country. Listen to no politician's sycophancy, and eloquent harangue. Be vigilant and let none deceive you. Read political and alliance papers and educate yourselves in the present history of the country. Be active, brave and humane and make war on no profession, but ask all to assist you in restoring the country to its pristine greatness. C.

More Manure and Less Land.

Cultivate less land if your manure heap is small. There is just as much lack of judgment in endeavoring to cover ten acres with the manure as in using a lump of butter on ten slices of bread when it will only answer for one. Besides this, it takes more labor to spread the manure on ten acres than on one. Concentrate your labor, concentrate your crops without lessening the quantity.

What Is Transpiring at the Head of the Nation.

SILVER COINAGE—MINNESOTA WILL BE DEMOCRATIC IF THE RAILROAD TARIFF BILL PASSES.

[Reg. Cor. CAUCASIAN.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 8th. The Republicans of the House held a caucus Tuesday in which they experienced how vexatious Speaker's Reed's arbitrary rulings are when applied at home. The caucus met to decide upon the order of business. The River and Harbor managers tried hard to have that appropriation bill disposed of the first thing, but Mr. Reed had determined that the Tariff should have precedence. Then the wanted second consideration, but were denied or, any definite and were extremely exasperated. The time to be taken up by tariff talk was discussed. Speaker Reed suggested that general debate be omitted and the bill taken up in detail at once. He knew the bill would pass and there wasn't any use of much talking. Mr. McKinley jumped to his feet and protested vehemently against the in-ination that no debate was necessary. He declared that the party need not fear to discuss the bill before the country; that to cut off general debate would be to out of favor upon both minority and majority. Mr. Burrows created amusement by saying some people having made a tariff speech thought the subject exhausted for all time to come and were naturally impatient at hearing other people talk. (This was a drive at Mr. Reed's tariff speech two years ago.) The Speaker then laid down his ultimatum. There would be fifty more working days this session and the majority could give whole time to the tariff if it would, but it must be understood that other legislation suffered as it was very necessary to adjourn early. He probably meant public buildings and other little jobs so important to candidates for reelection. The outcome of it all was a compromise that the bill should pass the House and be in the Senate in a fortnight.

Importers of all kinds that that put up their money for the high tariff candidate have discovered their mistakes and are daily harrassing the Ways and Means Committee for favors and relief. The manufacturers of sugar, made from imported molasses, now insist upon a bounty. But out west the light of reason is equally dawning upon the people. The leading Republican paper in Minnesota, the St. Paul Pioneer Press, says, that if the McKinley tariff bill passes that State will go Democratic; that all the farmer's necessities are grievously taxed and that he is given no corresponding relief. The session will be a long one. The Republicans have full power to enact any measure they want and are not likely to leave until the approach of the Congressional elections this fall warns them to go home and correct the ideas the farmers are getting that the tariff is a heavy tax.

The Senate Republican committee have abandoned all hope of reaching a satisfactory solution of the silver question. The whole matter therefore will have to be determined on the floor of the Senate. An influential member of the Finance Committee said that if they desired it, the free coinage people could pass their measure, as the majority of the Senate was in favor of it. But that the President had indicated that he wouldn't approve a free coinage bill and the doubt in the minds of the extreme silver men was whether they should go ahead in spite of this intimation, or whether they should agree to some compromise that would obtain the President's signature.

AFRUITFUL CAUSE OF "CUSS-ING."

Postmaster General Wanamaker has defeated the aspirations of a Republican in Pennsylvania because he "cusses." The postmaster general ought to bear in mind that this national administration has done more for the cause of "cussing" than any in our history, and he should be indulgent. Mr. Harrison will be in sore need of the "cussing" members of his party about two years from now, and would do well to cultivate them a little.—North Star Rep.

The Latin language was the language of the Roman people. It is a dead language—by dead language we mean not spoken by any nation. But I think if you were to go to school with us for just one day, and one day only, you would think it had risen from the dead. For of all the Caesars, Oratoricians, Catalines, Filibusters, Catoes, Catoes, and goodness knows how many—for I don't—of these great shames and heroes they call on in one hour. If all these great people are dead, and have not risen, their names have, if they succeeded in dying with their bodies. I know some days their ears must burn if there is any truth in the old saying.

Well, dead or alive, it is one of our principal studies. I think every person should know some Latin, if not all of it. It is a mighty good thing to have, but a most mighty hardest thing to get, and nearly as hard to keep. A real long and hard Latin lesson will come as near making you break the third commandment, or nearly so, as a stubborn mule, and just mis three words if you dare, and you will stay in, and talk with the professor, and if you don't "gee" to suit him, talking won't be all, for you will go to walk, and that, to the hurrah bush, too.

Such knowledge is hard to get into my head; in fact a school boy's life is a hard one any way, but we will try to think that it will be all for the best some day.

SAM JONES' INFLUENCE ON WHIST.

By the laws of this game you must follow suit if you have any. On Saturday night a sweet lady who had been to hear Sam Jones trumped a club with six in her hand. She afterwards told a club. Upon her attention being called to her faux pas she could hardly be convinced, but finally exclaimed: "Well, well, I trump a club with six in my hand. I must have been thinking of Sam Jones."—Charlotte News.

LATER:—All the regiments encamp at Wrightsville, but at different times. See order to Capt. Johnson in another column.

We see that S. B. Alexander has disposed of his bank stock. We presume he is getting his wings in such condition, that when he gets ready to go to Washington he will have no burdens to annoy him. This reminds us of the joke about the girl who sold her jewels to her sister Sally, "because they were sinful."

The Wilmington Messenger will issue a State industrial copy of this excellent Journal. The people of North Carolina and more especially the eastern section are greatly indebted to Julius A. Bonitz for the able and continued manner in which he has ever presented our claims. He should be met by a liberal spirit from all the business men. What he does in the direction of progress has been well done, and we are willing to say that this will crown all his former efforts.

Richmond will have a crowd from N. C. at the unveiling of Lee's statue on the 29th. The scene on the streets a few days since, when the city turned out in swarms to assist by their hands in removing this partial evidence of their esteem, to a temporary resting place was striking. This testimony only partially demonstrates the love that the southern people have for this noble man and great soldier; he is enshrined in the hearts of every good citizen and the children of generations to come will delight in his memory honor.

The candidates are marshaling their strength, and getting the forces in readiness. Since it is said that the Farmers' Alliance are going to pay some attention to candidates and offices, the number of persons who are fond of farmers and their interests are alarmingly numerous, the ordinary office-seeker sits around and agrees to all that is said, in harmony with the farmer, has no pulsation but that is in unison with his interest, is willing to sacrifice himself to the entire interest of husbandry, and if need be, to pull a bell rope over the back of a stubborn mule. Oh, the marjays that are waiting to be sacrificed on the altar of the country. What professions of love come from many who pander to public feeling, and sacrifice anything to secure an office? but we know that as a rule, the schemes of many will not "go down" the ave. age farmer, they will not be gulled any more than any other class.

I. O. O. F.

The 47th Annual Meeting at Wilmington.

The State Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows met in Wilmington Tuesday in annual session. It is a large and growing Order, having increased 50 per cent in this State during the last year. The membership now is between two and three thousand. The meeting in Wilmington is expected to be largely attended, and it is already known that great enthusiasm prevails.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE.

We are not surprised at the action of the trustees of this institution, in going outside of home for an assistant professor. When a President was wanted they pursued the same course. It is not strange that our young men go away from us and seek homes in distant states. The rule has ever been to discriminate against native talent. We seem to be easily convinced that within our borders there are none suited to the training of our youth. Is it to be wondered at when we are confronted with the accusation that we are not competent, when the rule is to go abroad for instructors? We do not approve of any such conduct.

We take an extract from the speech of Mr. Allen, the humorous member of Miss. "I was coming up the street the other day with a prominent Republican, whom I have known very well in official life, and I said to him, 'How are you getting on with the administration?' 'Oh,' said he, 'don't ask me that, Allen; don't ask me that. I have reduced my opinion of that business to poetry, and this is it:

"John W. runs the Sunday school, Levi runs the bar, The baby runs the White House, And, damn it, here we are."

[Great laughter.]

I hope the committee will be in order, Mr. Chairman. I want to proceed with my remarks. [Renewed laughter.] Mr. Chairman, this thing is really growing serious. All that I have said so far I will vouch for. [Laughter.]

There is another report going around here that I am not going to vouch for, either; but it is said that one of the leaders of this House on the Republican side, some time ago, in social conversation with a Democratic friend, said to him: "Sit down here and tell me the biggest lie you can think of." The man he said it to is a man who is supposed to have some capacity in that line. [Laughter.] The Democrat sat down by him and began by saying, "Well, sir, Harrison's Administration is a great success." "Sir," said the Republican, "you might have studied a whole year and you never could have beaten that." [Great laughter.]

Another prominent Republican told me that this Administration had demonstrated how small a man could hold the office of President; that it was the quintessence of minimization.

Warsaw Items.

[Special Correspondent.]

We met a friend one morning last week, just before sunrise and from his manner and actions he appeared to be making his way towards the express office with a small box, contents unknown. He was so excited he took no notice of us at first, but calling him again he stopped and with certain signs came up to us and after surveying the streets and being sure no one was in sight he opened the box and whispered excitedly a rick-glittering rocks—gold—rich man—sending them to Raleigh to be examined. Bestowing a look of everlasting secrecy upon me he hurried on up day street towards the express office. He undoubtedly believes he has discovered a gold mine near Warsaw and from all appearance he had the foot of all evil in his box. Gold in Duplin, coal in Bladen and Huckleberries and fine timber in Sampson and then it is connected that Eastern Carolina has no resources.

Mr. George Rogers is in charge of Mr. J. S. Westbrook's berry farm at this place.

We had a Sullivan and Kilrain encounter on our streets last Saturday in which Mr. Sullivan as usual came off victorious. The entertainment on Friday night was a grand success in every particular, nearly $90 was raised for the benefit of the Methodist church.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!

Symptoms:—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulcers, and in most cases removes the tumor. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents.

DR. SWAYNE & SON, Philadelphia.

FOR DYSPEPSIA Use Brown's Iron Bitters. Physicians recommend it. All dealers keep it. $1.00 per bottle. Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

A Forum of Public Opinion.

THE OPINION OF OUR READERS ON THE VARIOUS TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We offer this column to our readers in which to discuss topics of interest and profit to them.

A Cotton States' Bank.

(By S. M. Thomson.)

The present banking system is oppressive to the South and West. We want relief—how are we to get it? The West can establish a Grain States Bank of America, to be managed to suit themselves. We at the South, need a Cotton States Bank of America, with a capital of one hundred millions of dollars. Let the Mother Bank be established at some central point in the cotton belt, say at Atlanta, Ga. Then each cotton State to have a branch bank at its capital, then a branch bank in each cotton county, where the volume of business would justify it. The mother bank to have thirteen directors—say one from each cotton State. The State banks to have nine directors selected from the cotton districts. The county banks to have three or four directors. The State banks to act under instructions of the mother bank. The county banks to act under instructions of the State bank. The county banks will do the business—lending money to planters on real estate collateral at 8 per cent, also 75 per cent on the value of cotton—the cotton to be stored under good sheds on the plantations and insured. I have given you the salient points.

Let our people think about it, discuss it, and go to work and secure a charter from the government. If we secure a charter I venture to say that every dollar of the capital stock will be taken in thirty days after it is advertised.

Duplin Items.

[Regular Correspondent.]

Since our last, showers have visited many sections of our county, and crops are much revived; complaints however are numerous at Warsaw as there has not been rain enough there to wet the ground since March.

In a few weeks I expect to give names of all candidates for office in our county, so if you intend being one, say so, and I will put your name in the list. Duplin has reason to be proud of her schools, and especially those of Prof's Shaw of Kenansville, and Merritt, of Warsaw. The closing exercises of the latter will take place on Thursday night, May 22, 1890 and as the programme is varied and interesting, we bespeak a large house. Seats free.

The eastern section of Duplin has many of what is termed "gall berry" distilleries, and while we deplore the fact and wish it was otherwise, yet the people look upon the revenue laws as being oppressive and unjust, and they will not report each other to the officials. We wish that this tax was removed, as people are determined to drink, no matter the cost, and as the law now stands, it only makes criminals of good men. We were fortunate in being an eye witness of the last entertainment given by the Warsaw Dramatic Club, and we can truthfully say that the club, fully sustained their reputation for being the best club in this section. All did so well, as to make distinctions invidious. The club has been invited to play in Kenansville on Friday night, May 17, but we do not know whether they will go or not.

Much has been said lately of stock raising throughout the State, and in this connection, we wish to say that Mr. D. L. Farrior of our county has gone extensively into the raising of thoroughbred stock, of all kinds and has quite a reputation already for his fine Jerseys. Purchasers would do well to write to him.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy.

Dr. J. H. McAden's Opinion. I consider Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy the best blood purifier that is on the market to-day.

J. H. McADEN.

Judge Shepherd's Opinion. WASHINGTON, N. C., June 12, 1890. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy has been used by a member of my family, and the result has been very beneficial. I believe it to be a good medicine. JAS. E. SHEPHERD.

Mrs. Brown, the case alluded to in Judge Shepherd's testimonial, says: WASHINGTON, N. C., July 29, '86. It is with pleasure I add my grateful testimony to the hosts of witnesses who have attested the virtues of Mrs. Joe Person's great Remedy. After years of debility and suffering it has proven to me the best of tonics and blood purifiers. An obstinate, irritable ulcer on my ankle, from which I suffered agony for years, seems to have healed entirely and healthfully under its purifying effects, and my general health has greatly improved.

Mrs. S. T. BROWN.

New York Market.

Reported by G. S. Palmer, Commission Merchant, Fruits and Produce, 165 Reade St., New York.

May 10th, 1890.

Business in produce lines again resumes its "old time activity," and with larger and better receipts, the trade has been better able to meet the demands of their customers, and the week closes with very satisfactory results. As consumers have for a long time been kept on "short rations" we anticipate an unusually large demand, therefore, for the fine grades of vegetables that are now coming forward. Strawberries have not met with very favorable sale; best Norfolk are bringing from 15 to 18 cents, inferior stock 10 to 13. Peas are in heavy supply, and N.

LOCALS.

—It is turnips instead of Irish potatoes that Mr. B. F. Herring is shipping with such good result.

—We are indebted to Mr. Thos. T. James for an invitation to the Trinity Commencement Thursday, June 12th.

—Knights of Honor, remember that the Clinton Lodge meets Friday night at 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to attend.

—The Rev. Mr. Turner will hold evening services in St. Paul's Church at 8:30, on Sunday next, and will give instructions preparatory to confirmation.

—Mr. D. M. Patrick is erecting a new residence on Sampson street, more of the good results of the Sampson Building and Loan Association.

—We have received an invitation to the Eleventh Annual Closing Exercises of Fork Academy (Davie county), of which Prof. J. T. Alderman of this county is Principal.

—We are indebted to Miss Mamie Highsmith for an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of Greensboro Female College, May 27th to 29th, and to Mr. Matt J. Pearsall, the University of North Carolina, June 4th to 6th.

—Last season the Goldsboro ice factory furnished ice for this place at 65 per hundred. This season they charge $1.00 per hundred. What is the matter? It can be no short crop of the matter, because water is plentiful and the ice is manufactured. Can it be that our neighbors are taking lessons from the North in the matter of combines and trusts?

—Mrs. S. E. Murray of Warsaw sent by mail a box of those fine strawberries, the "Murray Seedling," (a new and excellent variety discovered by her) last Saturday. They were in a tight box for 24 hours before opened and were in fine condition. The flavor is very fine. It is probably the best berry on the market, certainly better than any other we have seen.

—Larger shipments of strawberries and truck have been made from this place this season than ever before. The bean season opened Monday. The first shipment was made by Walter Falson. Shipments were also made the same day by Messrs. Robinson Boykin and John Holmes. Mr. J. E. Royal followed close with shipments on Tuesday. The outlook is for a big crop. Large quantities of Irish potatoes and turnips will also be shipped. Shippers have been experiencing good returns and are in good spirits.

—We notice that in three-fourths of the counties in the State that a court calendar is published several weeks before each court, so that each party having business, may know just what day to come. It should be done in this county also. It is an outrage to make parties to a suit and their witnesses come Monday and stand around all the week waiting for a hearing. If Judges and Lawyers suffered any inconvenience for such an arrangement, they would have a charge made immediately. But it is the farmer or country citizen only who suffers, so he himself must demand a change if he ever gets it.

—The Rev. C. L. Arnold closed his series of sermons on the six fundamental doctrines of Christ last Monday morning; at night the subject of sermon was "why I am an Episcopalian." The church was literally crowded, not only the seats full but also chairs in the aisles. While the great bulk of the congregation was composed of Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians and "Free Thinkers," yet every one gave him the closest attention while he feelingly eloquently and logically stated the position of the church and gave his reasons for the faith that is in him. He is not by any means a high churchman, we might almost call him a John Wesley Episcopalian, an evangelist; and if the church had a dozen such men in this diocese its membership would be doubled within a twelve-month. He won the hearts of our people not only from the pulpit but socially as well.

A Good Lecture.

The lecture at the Baptist church in Warsaw Thursday night, May 15, and at the Clinton Baptist church Friday night, May 16th, before the Society of Christian Endeavor, by Rev. J. S. Dill, of Goldsboro, will be a treat to our town. He stands among the foremost preachers in the State as a popular orator. His subject, "Veneration of Mind and Morals," is a most taking lecture, full of wit, humor and good sense. It is most highly commended by all who have had the pleasure of listening to it. We bespeak for him a large audience among us. The low price of admission 25 and 15 cents place it within the reach of all. The funds are for the benefit of our music.

O. P. MEERS.

To Encomp in Regiments.

Capt. Wm. A. Johnson has received an order from Adjutant-General Glenn saying that the 1st and 3rd regiments of the State Guard would go in camp at Wrightsville from July 22nd to 29th inclusive, and the 2nd and 4th regiments from August 5th to the 12th. The Sampson Light Infantry is company F of the 2nd regiment, and this arrangement will be highly satisfactory to the Sampson boys. The encampment last year was entirely too early.

MCDANIELS.

The firm of Landon and Edwards is putting up a turpentine distillery near Boykin's Bridge, preparing for the new crop.

Mrs. D. C. Owens is visiting her father Mr. J. B. Smith of Cumberland county, accompanied by little Cally and Calhoun Owens.

MINGO.

Died, on the 5th inst., Mr. John Starling. He was born March the 1st 1811, and was therefore aged 79 years 2 months and 5 days. He took up his crutches March the 8th 1883 and in 1885 he desired to unite with some Christian church. He sent for Rev. J. T. Newton and Rev. A. B. Alderman who told him the way and plan of salvation. He then united with the Missionary church, he was baptised by Bro. Newton and Mr. O. D. Strickland, and he was baptised in a chair on the 1st Sunday in April 1886. He has been a consistent member of the Baptist church till his death. On his death bed he said God speed the hour when the angels shall greet me to my Heavenly home. H. S. W.

We are glad to learn that there is a very good Sunday School at Kendalls Chapel, T. L. Pugh Supt.

"BUTTERFLY."

A b'g ice cream and strawberry supper will be given at Boykin's Chapel on Friday night, the 16th instant, for the benefit of the church. We trust that our friends of the adjacent neighborhood and of Clinton will come out and enjoy the occasion with us and render us assistance that will be much appreciated.

COMMITTEE.

On Monday night the 21st inst., at 8 o'clock the air was rent in old Dismal by some unearthly sound, and on going out of doors I discovered that it was the tin tangle of tin pans, and various other musical (?) instruments consisting of gourd-necks, cow-horns, ox-horns, ram-horns &c., with the bold shouts of the boys as they serenaded the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Williams. There was fifty or seventy five in this noisy crowd consisting of some as good people as we have. After storming the castle, capturing the groom and riding him for some time on their shoulders the party retreated in good order.

Boys do you think you can stand to get married if this thing is to become fashionable? JEFF.

Farmers are very busy chopping cotton in this vicinity and some few still sowing.

Mr. Thames, who has recently returned from Florida, has been visiting at N. A. Layton's, Esq. He speaks in glowing terms of the "Flower-Land" but can't give up "Old North State."

Can't the members of Mingo Academy No. 229 have a speech from our talented County Lecturer, Mr. Butler, in some future day? We think we are entitled to that much, therefore we will demand it in some future day. H. M. W.

Crops are looking only ordinary in this section, not very good stands of corn. Crows, Ground moles, stump-tailed rats and the insects have all taken a good share, which causes lots of re-planting and consequently a great loss to the farmer. If the farmers does not make greater efforts to destroy those pests, progress in farming will be materially checked. Cotton is quite backward in coming up. It is so dry and cool, that it looks very sickly, and is dying on hard stiff land. Labor seems to be plentiful, and the farmers are well up with their work. Not much time spent at the Cross Roads Store, discussing politics yet. But the sweet oily tongue of old seekers is beginning to put in his appearance, and when a fellow gives you such a hearty shake of the hand and inquires so particularly about the "wife and babies," you may know that he is a "candidate" without the asking. There will be so many this year that are anxious and willing to serve the "dear people" that it is going to be almost impossible to make a selection. Guess we had better keep near the same old set as the most of them have been weighed in the balance, and not found wanting.

Eld. C. P. Jerome had a very large congregation at Keoners last Sunday. His text was from Ecclesiastes 12 chapter 1 verse. Remember now thy creator in the days of thy youth. His sermon was directed mostly to the young. He had all the little girls and boys seated near him, and divided his subject, so that their little minds could comprehend

A FINE SERIES OF SERMONS

On the Six Fundamental Doctrines of Christ.

TWICE A DAY FOR A WEEK THE REV. MR. ARNOLD DELIVERS STIRRING AND FORCEFUL SERMONS TO LARGE AND ATTENTIVE AUDIENCES.

On Monday, May the 5th, the Rev. C. L. Arnold, of St. Paul's church, Wilmington, commenced a series of sermons in St. Paul's church, in Clinton. The membership of the Clinton parish is small and a large congregation is something unusual, but from the first sermon the congregations that gathered to hear the eloquently clear, earnest, and practical divine grew larger and larger each day. Not even when the Bishop visits the parish do such congregations gather to hear him. For the benefit of our readers who could not hear him we give below an outline of the able, interesting and instructive series of sermons:

INTRODUCTION.

The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews has stated in the first and second verses of the sixth chapter the six first or fundamental doctrines of Christ. They are as follows: Repentance from Dead Works, Faith toward God, Baptism, the Laying on of Hands, the Resurrection, and Eternal Judgment. These are the foundation on which rests the superstructure of Christian Truth. Take out one of these and you imperil the stability of the fabric of Christian teaching. No subject can more properly demand our prayerful and anxious study, than we may know the truths whereon we stand.

SERMON NO. 1.—REpentance.

First, there is the doctrine of Repentance from Dead Works, or from those sins which work death. What is it to repent? To turn away from sin unto God. A crucifying of the old man of sin and raising up in us of the new man created in righteousness and true holiness. Repentance is taught and exemplified in the parable of the "Prodigal Son." First is the realizing of his sinful condition, as the powerful phrase of the Gospel is: "the coming to himself." He does not know himself, while he is in a state of moral unconsciousness. He is awakened; he sees the depths of his sin; he feels his degradation, and moreover comes to realize that he ought not to be where he is, that he has a Father and a Home whence he had come. He says I have sinned. But then comes a resolve: I will arise out of this sin. I will not sin lower and lower, but just as I sin I will go to my Father. We see now what Repentance is. There are the two steps realized of sinfulness, and the turning from sin unto righteousness. Some call this conversion. We call it repentance and day by day do the Christian need practice it. Sin is a disease and forgiveness through repentance is the cure of this sickness which otherwise is unto death.

SERMON NO. 2.—FAITH.

Faith is a faculty of the soul by which it apprehends spiritual truth. God is known to us by faith, and it is this faculty that enables us to perceive divine guidance, even through the darkness of sorrow or the perplexities of life's unmeasured way. I have said that faith is a faculty of the soul. Therefore it grows in strength by exercise. The disciples prayed Christ to increase their faith, and the Master did not promise to do so. As properly would a man seek of God a good memory, or a brilliant imagination as a power of faith. Prayer can prevail with God. In answer to our petitions will our heavenly Father send out upon us the abundance of his grace, and fill our souls with his consoling and enlightening spirit, but faith he does not bestow in answer to prayer, but prayer as an act of faith must strengthen that faculty. Faith is the result of faith. It is the soul's attitude to God, a confident reliance upon Divine Providence, "believing when we cannot prove," following without fear whenever divinity lead. Faith makes real to us our highest, holiest hopes, and brings to our hearts assurance of those things which transcend the perception of senses. As the fledgling of the present spring hatched bird taught by its mother, spreads its wings and flies to the viewless air and finds itself upheld by the buoyant atmosphere, so prompted by faith the soul commits itself to the unseen God, and feels beneath it, supporting and upholding it the everlasting arm.

SERMON NO. 3.—BAPTISM.

The Episcopal Church holds firmly to the necessity of the two great sacraments, Baptism and the Supper of the Lord. She teaches that these are the sacraments which are generally necessary unto salvation. By "generally necessary" is meant, necessary when at all possible. The infant highest, holiest hopes, and brings to our hearts assurance of those things which transcend the perception of senses. As the fledgling of the present spring hatched bird taught by its mother, spreads its wings and flies to the viewless air and finds itself upheld by the buoyant atmosphere, so prompted by faith the soul commits itself to the unseen God, and feels beneath it, supporting and upholding it the everlasting arm.

It keeps the children free from humors, my husband says it gives him a good appetite, and for myself I am sure I could never do all my work if it was not for this splendid medicine. It makes me feel strong and cheerful, and I am never troubled with headache or that tired feeling, as I used to be."
